On the following day (Wednesday, the 3d) the report will be submitted to the annual session of the report will be submitted to the annual session of the League Congress. At this convocation there are several questions to be disposed of. One of them is as to the size of the League—how many clubs it shall contain. Another is as to whether there shall be two branches of the body, an Eastern and a Western. A third is the admission fee; the fourth is the choice of president—whether to retain the old one or elect another.

Since the English wrestler, Edwin Bibby, defeated Since the English wrestier, Edwin Bibby, defeated Andre Christol, Græco-Roman style, some weeks ago, the friends of the latter, not feeling entirely satisfied with the result of the match, have been endeavoring to arrange another. Bibby, prior to his bout with Christol, was comparatively unknown on this side of the water, but the skill he displayed as a Græco-Roman wrestler gained him many friends among the lovers of that sport in this city. The new match will take place at Madison Square Garden on Thursday evening, and the best man must gain two out of three falls, instead of a single fall, as before. Bibby is taking daily exercise in the neighborhood of the Battery and feels in prime condition. Christol is also in active training and feels confident of making a good record.

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING.

Allen Merkle, twenty-nine years old, a painter by occupation, was committed to jail by Justice Walsh, of Brooklyn, yesterday, on a charge of feloniously assaulting John H. Donaghy, aged eighteen years. The victim of the alleged assault, who was shot through the right breast, is lying in a critical con-The victim of the alleged assault, who was shot through the right breast, is lying in a critical condition in the Long Island College Hospital. It is stated in the police report that between twelve and one o'clock yesterday morning Denaghy, who resides at No. 281 Bridge street, left the liquor store of Michael McKenny, corner of Bridge and Concord streets, in company with Thomas Tuttle and John Gordon. Donaghy went down Bridge street toward Chapel street, where he intended to deliver a paint brush that had been intrusted to him for that purpose. When he reached the corner of Bridge and Chapel streets he was, as is alleged, suddenly shot at by Merkle, the ball taking effect as above stated. Soveral citizens who were in the vicinity at the time say they saw Merkle fire and then run away. He was pursued by Peter Fitzgerald, of No. 280 Bridge street, and others. In his flight he threw away the pistol. He was finally caught by Fitzgerald, who handed him over to the custody of Patrolman McLaughlin. The wounded man was taken to the station house, in Washington street, where he was attended by Ambulance Surgeon Plympton, who pronounced the wound dangerous, though the lung was not, it is believed, touched by the ball.

The prisoner when questioned by the police as to the provocation that led to the assault stated that he had been attacked by the wounded man and two other fellows, who robbed him of $2.50 and attempted to take his watch. He said he fred the pistol shot to protect himself and his property. This version of the affair is, however, denied by witnesses, who say that the injured run was about three-quarters of a block distant from Merkle when the shooting occurred.
